Lesson 1: Usage of Articles

Basics of Articles (Part 1 - A and An)

Articles are of TWO types. They are

- 1. Indefinite article ---- A / An
- 2. Definite article ---- The

What's the difference?

If you want to say about ANY item, you should use the articles A / An. If you want to say about a SPECIFIC item, you should use the article THE.

Confused? Lets see an example. Assume that you've selected for a Bank Exam. You have a stupid friend like me. So obviously She will ask you a party.

Suppose if She says

- Lets go to a Restaurant, that means She doesn't have any specific restaurant in Her mind. So you can give her party in ANY cheap restaurant. But,
- If she says Lets go to THE restaurant, that means She has some SPECIFICATIONS. I mean she have a specific restaurant in her mind. So you cant escape;)

Well, this is the basic difference between A/An and The. There are so many differences and usages of these articles. We shall discuss them later.

Ok, lets discuss about the Indefinite articles first.

Indefinite Articles:

A: The indefinite article 'a' is used before singular countable nouns that start with a Consonant sound.

An: The indefinite article 'an" is used before singular countable nouns that start with a Vowel sound.

Wow, Nice definitions. No?

Have a look at some examples,

A:

- A Bat
- A Cat
- A Rat
- A Jug

An:

- An Apple
- An Egg
- AN Ink-Bottle
- An Orange
- An Umbrella

Great,

Now tell me, what should I use before the words European, One-Eyed Beggar, University, Useful Website?

Can I say, Guide4BankExams is an Useful site to know about Banking Exams?

NO

why?

Please Re-Read the definitions. Here we are talking about Vowel and Consonant SOUNDS. Not the Letters. People often confuse with this. They blindly put A before a word, if it starts with a Vowel letter (A, E, I, O, U) and put An before the word which starts with the consonant letter.

Consider the SOUND, not the LETTER.

Confusing? Lets see a short cut for this.

- If a word starts with a SWAR (Any of the Indian Language) sound, then we should use An before it
- If a word starts with a Vyanjan (An of the Indian Language) sound, then we should use A before it.

Have a look at this picture,

so, now see these examples,

A:

- A European
- A One-Eyed beggar
- A University
- A Useful Website

An:

- An hour
- An Honest Man
- An honourable person

Thats it.

Now lets see some more TRICKY examples in English.

Suppose, if you want to say about the Member of Parliament, you can say a Member of Parliament, But if you use shorter form as M.P, Then you should say, He is an M.P

Lets see another example, He is an NRI but He is a Non Resident Indian

 Articles - The

The Usage of the "THE"

Ok, first of all sorry for the confusing title. In this blog we shall discuss where we should use the article "The". Some of these statements are really make you confuse and seems they are opposing each other. Please try to read this for two or three times. so that you can understand THE concept easily.

- Before superlative forms
 - \circ Ex:
 - The Tallest
 - The Best
 - The most beautiful
- Before double comparatives
 - o Ex:
 - The higher you go, the colder you gets
 - ✓ The harder you work, the better rank you get in Bank Exams
 - ✓ The more you earn, the more you want
- When the comparison is between the two and either of the subjects is Highlighted
 - Ex:

- Sachin is the greater of the two cricketers
- Of the two cricketers sachin is the greater
- Note:
 - X Sachin is the greater than lara
 - Now whats the difference between the first statement and the third? why the first one is correct and third one is wrong? because in the 3rd statement, we have mentioned the Person's name. But in the first statement we didnt.
- Before positive form in apposition

- EX:
 - Alexander, the great
 - Manmohan Singh, the prime minister etc
- Before musical instruments
 - o The Guitar
 - o The Tabla
 - o The voilin etc
- Before a Proper noun when used as a Common noun
 - Nelson mandela is The Gandhi of South Africa
 - Kalidasa is The Shakespeare of India
- Before some adjectives to make them nouns
 - \circ Ex:
 - The Blind
 - The Dead
 - The Rich
 - The Poor
 - Usage :
 - The doctor restored sight to the blind (Here there is no need to mention "The Blind Person" because, the term Blind itself represents the Blind person, so its the adjective which is used as the noun.)
 - The rich should not mock at the poor
 - ✓ Jesus rose from the Dead
 - X Jesus rose from Dead
- Before some Languages, to make them PEOPLE.
 - X English ruled over India for many Years
 - The English Ruled over India for Many Years

 - X Mother in her aroused when she saw a Crying Baby
 - ✓ The mother in her aroused when she saw a Crying Baby

- Before Ordinal numbers
 - o The First
 - o The Third
 - o The Tenth, etc
 - Ex:
 - The first and the second posts of this blog
 - Note: Little clarification for those people who have no idea about Ordinal numbers
 - One, Two, Three, Four → Cardinal Numbers
 - First, Second, Third \rightarrow Ordinal Numbers
- Before the names of Oceans, Seas, Rivers, Canals, Deserts, Groups of Mountains and Groups of Islands
 - Note: Dont use "The" for single mountain or single Island (Thats the reason why we've underlined these two statements)
 - \circ Ex:
 - ✓ The Pacific
 - ✓ The Red Sea
 - ✓ The Sahara
 - V The Himalayas
 - Usage :
 - V Kolkata is on the banks of the Hoogli
 - X Kolkata is on the banks of the River Hoogli
 - Kolkata is on the banks of river Hoogli
 - Kolkata is on the banks of the Hoogli river
 - Dont be confued, please read the above sentences properly and understand them
- Before Holy Books
 - The Ramayana
 - The Quran
 - The Bible
 - Usage:
 - My father reads the Bible everyday
- Before the names of the Things, which are unique in nature
 - o The Sun
 - o The moon
 - The Sky
 - You can add your name here :P kidding)
- Before the names of Planets and Satellites
 - The Mars
 - The Earth
 - Note: Little clarification for those people who confuses between the words Planet and Satellites
 - Planets rotates around the Sun
 - Satellites rotates around Planets
- In apposition, when name precedes the position (Important)
 - o Manmohan singh, the prime minister is on a two day tour to srilanka
 - o In correction of sentences, they've given this model for a number of times. The above sentence means, Manmohan singh, who is the prime minister is on a two day tour to srilanka.
 - Some time they will give like this
 - The X, the Y is on a two day tour to srilanka
 - Whats wrong with this sentence? You can remove THE at the begining or, just put ARE in the place of IS, so that the sentence tells about TWO different persons one is X and the second one is Y
- Before the names of News Papers
 - The Indian Express

- The Hindu etc
- Before the names of some countries
 - The U.S.A
 - o The UAE
 - The Netherlands
 - o The Congo etc

Omission of Articles

Till now we have learnt where should we use A , An and where should we use THE. Now we shall learn where shouldn't we use these articles. Following are the conditions where we shouldn't use any article.

- Before the common nouns man, woman, god, heaven, hell, when used in general sence
 - Man is mortal but God is immortal
 - Man proposes but god disposes
 - o Everybody wants to go to heaven but nobody wants to die
 - Note: But when particularized 'the' definite article is used.
 - The man who is standing at the door is my uncle
 - When it means one, the indefinite article is used.
 - There is a man at the door
- Before abstract nouns, when generalized
 - Honesty is the best policy
 - Beauty should lie in one's heart
 - Bravery is the sign of man
 - Note: But when these are particularized, THE is used
 - The honesty the auto-driver showed was finally rewarded
- Before material nouns when Generalized
 - Water is essential for all
 - Sugar is sweet
 - Wood is used for making furniture
 - o Gold is a precious metal
 - But when particularized, THE definite article is used
 - The water in this pond is pure
 - The gold used for making this chain was 22 carat
- Before places like Church, Temple, Mosque, School, College, University, Hostel, Library, Class, Hospital, Jail (Prison) etc. When they are visited for their primary purpose
 - X He was an atheist, but now a days he is going to the church
 - ✓ He was an atheist, but now a days he is going to church
 - You should go to the school regularly in-order to get good marks

 - I went to the church to meet my friend (here i dint go for the primary purpose(prayer))
 - ✓ The man was put in jail for killing a woman
 - The injured were taken to hospital
 - X The injured were taken to the hospital
- But when these places are visited for their secondary purpose the definite article should be used.
 - He went to the temple to meet the priest
 - o My father came to the school to talk to my class teacher
 - o I went to the hospital to see and console a patient
- But when it means one, the indefinite article is used

- o There is a school at the end of the street
- Before Breakfast, Brunch, Lunch, Dinner etc, when used in general sense
 - we usually take lunch at 1
 - o Breakfast is served between 7 and 9
- But when these are particularized, by an adjective, the indefinite article is used.
 - We had a delicious lunch yesterday (here the lunch is particularized, so we used an indefinite article "a")
 - We are going to have a healthy breakfast
- Before plural nouns, when generalized
 - Tigers are ferocious animals
 - Cows are domestic animals
 - Children like chocolates
 - Note: Here if we represent singular instead of plural, then we should use articles
 - The tiger is a ferocious animal
 - A tiger is a ferocious animal
 - Tigers are ferocious animals
- In expressions like Go to bed, Take heart, Lose heart, Send word, Set fire
 - o Please switch off all the lights before going to bed (not going to the bed)
 - Dont lose heart when you are on the verge of danger (not lose the heart)
 - The house was set on fire (not on the fire)

Lesson 2 : Usage of Nouns

Noun and Number

All of us know what is noun and what is number. But there are some issues in Noun and Number which makes us confused often. Lets discuss them

- Some nouns always singular in number, so they take the singular verb
 - Scenery, Luggage, Information, Advice, Machinery, Stationary, Poetry, Issue (Children), Rice, Soap, Bread, Brick etc
 - (There are no plural forms for the above words)
 - Two cakes of Soap (Not Two Soaps)
 - Two Pieces of brick (Not Two Bricks)
 - X The sceneries of Kashmir are beautiful
 - V The scenery of Kashmir is beautiful
- Some nouns are always plural in number. So, they take a plural verb.

- Alms, Thanks, Goods, Regards, Wishes, Proceeds, Premises, Credentials, Riches, Pants, Pantaloons, Jeans, Tights, Shorts, Pajamas, Scissors, Forceps, Spectacles, Binaculars ets
 - X Convey my regard and wishes to your parents
 - Convey my regards and wishes to your parents
 - X I have never used such a scissors in my life
 - I have never used such scissors in my life
 - ✓ I have never used such a pair of scissors in my life
- Some nouns appear plural. But they are singular in number. So we should take a singular verb
 - Wages, Summons, Gallows, News, Politics, Electronics, Billboards, Measles, Mathematics etc
 - X The court has issued two summons to the minister, but he hasn't turned up yet
 - ✓ The court has issued two summonses to the minister, but he hasn't turned up yet

- X I have a good news to tell you
 - Here there is no plural for News. We shouldn't use articles for these type of words.
- I have good news to tell you
- Measles is a disease (not are)
- Some nouns appear singular but they are plural in number. So, they take a plural verb.
 - o Cattle, Infantry, Police, Poultry, Swine, Artillery, Peasantry, Gentry etc
 - X This cattle is mine
 - These cattle are mine
- Some nouns can be used either as singulars or as plurals without changing their form
 - o Sheep, Deer, Offspring, Species, Aircraft, Space Craft, Salmon, Yoke etc
 - X These are many sheeps in the fields
 - V There are many sheep in the fields

Formation of Plurals:

•	Boy		Boys
---	-----	--	------

- Man ----- Men
- Tooth ----- Teeth
- Dog ----- Dogs
- Ox ----- Oxen
- Child ----- Children
- Belief ----- Beliefs
- Sheaf ----- Sheaves
- Leaf ----- Leaves
- Datum ----- Data
- Stratum ----- Strata
- Matrix ----- Matrices
- Brother ----- Brothers
- Brother In Law ------ Brother in Laws X

Brothers - in - Law

• Man - Servant ----- Men - Servants

Noun and Case

The Case is of 3 types,

- 1. Nominative Case (Subjective Case)
- 2. Accusative Case (Objective Case)
- 3. Possessive Case

Now have a look at an example for proper understanding,

- 1. Sachin is a Cricket player (Nominative)
- 2. We like Sachin (Accusative)
- 3. This is Sachin's Bat (Possesive)

Possessive Case:

- 'S (apostrophe) --- This is used for Human-beings / Living Things
- Of ----- Non Living / Living Things

Note: Usually we don't use 'S(apostrophe S) for Non Living Things.

- V This is Ravi's Book
- X The building's roof needs to be repaired
- V The roof of the building needs to be repaired

Exceptions:

- There are some exceptions for the above mentioned case. We can use 'S(apostrophe S) for Time, Distance, Weight etc
 - o An Hour's Time
 - o A Ton's weight

Note: When a singular noun, which doesn't end in S (Hissing sound), The possessive case takes "S"

- Kamal's Pen
- Karthik's Watch
- Ramu's Dress

Note: When a singular noun, ends in S(Hissing Sound), the possessive case takes only apostrophe (') at the end (no need to add S)

- Keats' Poetry
- Lotus' Petals

When a plural noun doesn't end in S, the possessive case takes apostrophe S ('S)

- Children's specialist
- Women's college
- Men's single

When a plural noun ends in 'S', the possessive case takes only apostrophe at the end.

- Boys' Hostel
- Girls' College

When two persons and one possession in the sentence, the possessive case should be added to the latter

X I went to Raju's and Rani's house but i found the couple absent

• V I went to Raju and Rani's house, but i found the couple absent (Whats the difference? here Raju and Rani are couple. So obviously they live in the same house:) so two persons and one possession, so we should use 'S to the latter (Rani)

When two different things are referred to, the possessive case should be added to both

- X India and China's problems are different
- India's and China's problems are different (because, here india and china are different countries and cant be same)

The comparison should be made between the same cases

- X India's problems are the same as Pakistan
- India's problems are the same as Pakistan's

In apposition, the possessive case should be added to the latter

- X This is Prime minister's manmohan singh's speech

Both of and apostrophe cannot usually be used i none sentence

- X This is the house of Gandhi's
- V This is the house of Gandhi

Note: But the following expression is an exception

- Its ----> Of It
- It's ----> It is, It Was, It Has
- Hers ---> Of Her
- X Her's --> Her was, Her is (but these are wrong expressions)
- vours ---> Of Your
- Your's ----> Your Is, Your Was (How horrible it is... so thats the reason why, our teachers tell us dont use apostrophe while writing yours faithfully at the end of letter. But we neglect it;)

Note: Dont use apostrophe for pronouns

- He is my friend
- He is a friend of mine
- He is her friend
- He is a friend of hers
- He is a friend of my brother 🗸
- He is a friend of my brother's X

Care should be taken while using a relative pronoun

- I have seen many of amitabh's movies who is considered a great actor X
- I have seen many movies of amitabh, who is considered a great actor 🗸
- I have read Shakespeare's four great tragedies who is the greatest writer in English X

- I have read four great tragedies of Shakespeare who is considered the greatest writer in English ✓
- I have read the four great tragedies of Shakespeare which are worth reading X
- I have read Shakespeare's four great tragedies which are worth reading 🗸

In compound nouns the possessive case should be added to the last word

- He is my brother's-in-law friend X
- He is my brother-in-lwas's friend ✓

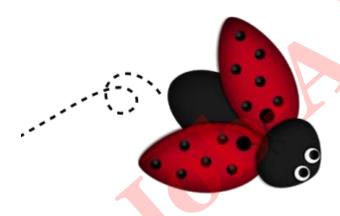

In the sentences with "One of These" the possessive should be used carefully

- I met, the minister at one of my friends house (this means, I have number of friends, and i met the minister in one of those friend's house)
- I met the minister at one of my friend's house (this means, my friend have number of houses and i met the minister in one of those houses)

Noun and Verb / Pronoun Agreement

In this Post we shall discuss about the Noun and Verb agreement of the sentences. Have a look at the following points. These points will help you to use correct verbs while writing sentences.

- In the sentences, with " One of The" and a relative clause, the verb should be Plural. Confused??? see the example.
 - Aamir is one of the students who has paid the fee X
 - Aamir is one of the students who have paid the fee ✓
- In the sentences with the "Only one of The" and a relative clause, the verb should be Singular.
 - \circ Aamir is the only one of the students who have paid the fee. \times :P
 - o Aamir is the only one of the students who has paid the fee.

Got the difference???

- When two nouns joined by "and" have their own articles, it is plural in number.
 - The lecturer and the Principal is on the leave. X

The lecturer and the principal are on the leave. 🗸

What is the difference? We are saying THE lecturer and THE principal. So they are TWO people. So we should use ARE instead of IS. Have a look at another Rule. So that you can get the rule in detail.

- But, when two nouns joined by "and" with an article before the first are treated as Singular.
 - The lecturer and principal are on leave. X
 - o The lecturer and principal is on leave. ✓

Here, we are joining TWO nouns with and using a Sing article (THE) before them. Simply, we are using one THE for two nouns. So, we are talking about a single person. So we should use IS instead of ARE.

Check the following examples

- o I have a black and a white dogs. (Two dogs)
- I have a black and white dog. (One dog)
- When two nouns are joined by "and" refers to one thing, singular verb can be used.
 - Bread and butter is a healthy food.
 - o The horse & carriage is at the door.

Noun and Pronoun Agreement:

- When a collective noun is unanimous, it takes a singular verb.
 - The committee has taken its decision unanimously.
- But when a collective noun is NOT unanimous, it usually takes a plural verb & plural pronoun (adj)
 - The committee are divided in their opinion.
- The expression "many a" takes everything in singular, but it express a plural meaning.
 - Many students have passed their test 🗸
 - Many a students has passed this test

Lesson 3: Some Common Errors of English

Tips for Sentence Rearrangement / Reordering in English

Sentence Reordering / Rearrangement is one of the Important and easiest section of English Language. Now a days in almost all competitive exams they are asking questions from this area. With basic knowledge of English and little concentration you can easily get full marks in this section. In sentence Rearrangement / Reordering problems they will give you four or five sentences which lack of coherence, connection and development. There will be only one way of rearranging them to acquire coherence, connection and development. You should choose the correct arrangement from the given Before into details, look answers. going lets have a some

Important tips for Sentence Rearrangement in English

- Sentences that have full names mentioned are either the starting or come in the first few sentences of the paragraphs.
- Similarly, the sentences that have 'they', 'him' or 'her' or the short names would only come after the proper introduction of the person.

- If there are pronouns like (it, this, that etc) in the sentence, then it simply means that they have already discussed about the subject. So in maximum cases it won't be the first sentence (I and You are exceptions for this rule).
- Sentences that begin with 'And', 'But' etc usually follow the central theme with an explanation to the same or give additional information.
- A central Theme around which the passage is framed. Identify the central theme, which is usually the first sentence.
- A logical sequence is present which usually describes the central theme.
- In maximum cases Last sentence ends with some conclusion / statement.

Now lets have a look at an example with detailed explanation:

- A. Miss Sullivan arrived at the Keller home when Helen was seven.
- B. The deaf and blind Helen learned to communicate verbally.
- C. But, eventually, Miss Sullivan's effort was rewarded.
- D. Before Helen Keller was two years old, she lost her sight and her hearing.
- E. Miss Sullivan worked closely with Helen, her new student.
- F. At times the teacher became frustrated.
 - 1. DEFACB
 - 2. DAEFCB
 - 3. ACFDEB
 - 4. CFDABE
 - 5. FDACEB

Explanation:

- Upon reading the above paragraph, we come to see that in A, B, E, F, the names mentioned are short while in D, the full name is mentioned. Hence D is the first sentence.
- Next we see that Ms. Sullivan comes into the picture when Helen is seven years old and hence A is the second sentence.
- The paragraph revolves around Helen's learning and hence E states what joins Helen and Ms. Sullivan.
- Sentence F states that the teacher became frustrated at times which is followed by C (starts with 'But' which indicates that in spite of something Ms. Sullivan's efforts were rewarded).
- Sentence B follows stating how the teacher's efforts were rewarded and is the conclusion to a set of events.

Correction of Sentences in English

Friends, today we shall discuss one of the very important topics of SBI PO and other competitive exams' English Section Correction of Sentences or Correct usage of words in English. In this type of questions, each sentence is divided into four parts and each part is marked below as A, B, C, and D. There is a mistake in any one part of the sentence. The students are required to detect which part contains the mistake. If there is no mistake in any part of the sentence, it should be marked as No Error (Option E).

As a number of our friends have been saying that they are unable to perform well in this area we have decided to update detailed lessons on Correction of Sentences in English. This is the introductory lesson and this lesson followed by exercises on Correction of Sentences with detailed explanations. We hope these lessons and exercises will help you perform well in upcoming exams. All the best:)

Examples:

1. He educated not only his nephew / but also / set him up / in business / No error

The mistake lies in part (A) 'not only' should be placed before 'educated' which it qualifies and not after it. Hence students should mark cross (X) against A.

2. The Himalayas / lie / to the north / of India. / No error

(B)

(C)

(E)

As there is no mistake in any part of the sentence, students should mark cross (X) against E.

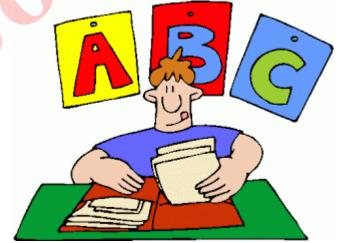

The mistake may be of any one of the following types:

- 1. Mistake in the use of article -- a, an, the.
- 2. The subject in the sentence may not be agreeing with the verb in number.
- 3. Pronoun may not be agreeing with its antecedent in person, number of gender.
- 4. There may be a mistake in the use of preposition.
- 5. There may be a wrong use of a conjunction in the sentence.
- 6. There may be mistakes in the use of participles, gerunds, infinitives and verbal nouns.
- 7. Some word in a sentence may have been wrongly used.
- 8. There may be a mistake in the use of an adverb or adjective. Degree of adjective may have been wrongly used.
- 9. Rules regarding verbs, their tenses, number, or moods may not have been correctly followed.
- 10. There may be miscellaneous mistakes which may not fit in the above categories.

Passive Voice for Competitive English

In today's article, we shall discuss about Voice. There are two special forms for verbs called voice. Those are

- 1. Active voice
- 2. Passive voice

The active voice is the "normal" voice. This is the voice that we use most of the time. You are probably already familiar with the active voice. In the active voice, the object receives the action of the verb. The passive voice is less usual. In the passive voice, the subject receives the action of the verb. Have a look at the following table of examples for better understand of the voices.

Now Lets see Where and When we should use Passive Voice:

- 1. Passive voice is used when the focus is on the action. It is not important or not known, however, who or what is performing the action.
 - Example: "A letter was written." The focus, here, is on the fact that a letter was written. We don't know, however, who wrote it.
- 2. Sometimes a statement in passive is more polite than active voice. Have a look at the following example. Example A vase was broken.

Focus, here, is on the fact that a vase was broken, but we don't blame anyone. Compare this to: "You broke the vase."

Form of the passive voice:

Subject + the appropriate form of to be + Past Participle

Note: The appropriate form of to be = To be is put in the tense of the active voice main verb. When rewriting active sentences in passive voice, note the following:

- The object of the active sentence becomes the subject of the passive sentence.
- The form of the verb is the appropriate form of to be (the tense of the active voice main verb) + the past participle.
- The subject of the active sentence becomes the object of the passive sentence (or is dropped.)

Example:

	Activo	Shivani	makes	tea
	- Active	subject	verb	object
	Passive-	Tea	is made	(by Shivani)
		object becoming subject	verb	subject becoming object or is dropped

Examples of the passive voice:

Tense		Subject	Verb	Object
Simple Present	Active:	Shivani	makes	tea.
Simple Present	Passive:	Tea	is made	by Shivani .
Present	Active:	Shivani	is making	tea.
Progressive	Passive:	Tea	is being made	by Shivani .
Simple Deet	Active:	Shivani	made	tea.
Simple Past	Passive:	Tea	was made	by Shivani.

Dogt Duoguagiya	Active:	Shivani	was making	tea.
Past Progressive	Passive:	Tea	was being made	by Shivani .
Present Perfect	Active:	NShivaniancy	has made	Tea.
Present Perfect	Passive:	Tea	has been made	by Shivani .
Past Perfect	Active:	Shivani	had made	tea.
rast reflect	Passive:	Tea	had been made	by Shivani .
Future simple	Active:	Shivani	will make	tea.
Future simple	Passive:	Tea	will be made	by Shivani .
Eutuva navfaat	Active:	Shivani	will have made	tea.
Future perfect	Passive:	Tea	will have been made	by Shivani .
Conditional	Active:	Shivani	would make	tea.
Conditional	Passive:	Tea	would be made	by Shivani.
Madala	Active:	Shivani	can make	tea.
Modals	Passive:	Tea	can be made	by Shivani.

Passive voice sentences with two Objects:

Rewriting an active sentence with two objects in passive voice means that one of the two objects becomes the subject, the other one remains an object. Which object to transform into a subject depends on what you want to put the focus on. Have a look at the following Examples.

Active/Passive	Subject	Verb	Object 1	Object 2
Active:	Shivani	offered	a flower	to me.
Passive:	A flower	was offered	to me	by Shivani.
Passive:	I	was offered	a flower	by Shivani.

Impersonal Passive:

Have a look at the following Examples:

- They say that the planet is in danger.
- It is said that the planet is in danger.

This type of passive is called impersonal because we use the impersonal form "it is..." This is only possible with verbs of perception (e. g. say, think, know ...)

Ex:

- It is said that...
- It is thought that...
- It is believed that...
- It is known that...

It is also common that we start the passive form of these sentences with the subject of the that-clause:

Ex:

- They say that the planet is in danger.= The planet is said to be in danger.
- They think that women live longer than men. = Women are thought to live longer.

Irregular Verbs

Friends, in today's post we shall discuss about Irregular Verbs.

What are these Irregular Verbs?

Before going into the details, first lets discuss What are the Regular Verbs?

Well, we can call the verbs which contain the ed at the end of the Simple Past and Past Participle forms as the Regular Verbs. So the format of the regular verbs is Base Verb + ed

Now lets have a look at some Examples of the regular verbs:

Infinitive	Simple past	Past participle
play	play ed	play ed
visit	visit ed	visit ed
work	work ed	work ed

Ok, you can take plenty of examples like this for Regular verbs. Now lets have a look at the Irregular Verbs. In contrast to the Regular verbs, irregular verbs are those verbs for which the above pattern of conjugation don't apply.

So, you cant predict the forms of the Iregular verbs, so you should learn them by heart. Here are some techniques to make them remember.

- Use them in appropriate contexts (in your writing or in your conversation)
- Just write down examples in your exercise book.
- Always keep a list of irregular verbs at your disposal. (Keep in mind, that most language books include a section at the end for irregular verbs.)

Why to put this much stress on Irregular words? because these are very important in the sentence correction part of the competitive exams (especially Bank Exams ofcourse).

Conditionals - English for Competitive Exams

In this post we shall discuss about Conditionals. Another important topic which is useful in writing Competitive Exams. Especially Bank Exams.

There are two kinds of conditionals

- Real
- Unreal

Real conditions are used for possible situations. The present tense is used in the if - clause (or conditional clause), and the future tense is used in the result clause.

If he comes to the library, I will give him these books.

Pres

Fut

(it is possible that he will come)

* This is an Open Condition.

Unreal conditions are used for impossible or unreal situations.

• The past tense is used in the "If-clause" and would, could, or migh, + the simple verb is used in the main clause.

If she practiced well, she could win the game

That means She doesn't practice well (check the difference between this example and the above mentioned example)

If she came to my house, I would give her your message.

That means, She doesn't come to my house.

* This is an unlikely condition.

• When the past perfect is used in the "If-clause", and would, could, or might + have + the past participle are used in the main clause.

If she had come to my house, I would have given her your message.

past perf. would + have + Past part

(she dint come to my house)

* This is a closed condition.

We can summarize the usage of the conditionals discussed above as given below:

If ClauseMain ClauseIf + PresentFuture (result)If + PastWould + Verb (result)If + Past PerfectWould + Have + Past Participle (result)

Some points to Remember:

- In general, avoid using would in the if-clause
- In present time unreal if clauses, the correct form of the verb to be for all persons is were

Have a look at some Examples:

- If he were rich, he would go the U.S.A for higher studies.
- If i were a bird, I would fly to England without VISA.

Conditionals in Sentence Correction in Competitive Exams:

The following examples will make clear some of the common mistakes committed in the usage of conditionals.

- X If I will win the contest, I will buy a new house.
- ✓ If I win the contest, I will buy a new house.

- X If I had been there, I would make a speech
- ✓ If I were there, I would make a speech.
- ✓ If I had been there, I would have made a speech.
- X If I would have a degree from that University, I would have a degree from that University, I would get a good job.

✓ If I had a degree from that University, I would get a good Job.

Comparatives and Superlatives

In this post we shall discuss about Comparatives and Superlatives. First lets see what are these comparatives and superlatives and how to use them.

Comparatives:

We use comparatives to compare two things or two people. (e.g He is shorter than his wife.).

Superlatives:

Superlatives are used to compare more than two things or more than two people. (e.g. Mumbai is the biggest city in India).

Note: To form comparatives and superlatives you need to know the number of syllables in the adjective. Syllables are like "sound beats".

Example:

- "find" contains one syllable,
- but "finding" contains two find and ing.

Hope you have got the basic idea on Comparatives, Superlatives and Sillables. Now lets have a look at some rules to form Comparatives and superlatives.

- 1. One syllable adjective ending in a silent 'e' nice
- Comparative add 'r' nicer
- Superlative add 'st' nicest
 - 2. One syllable adjective ending in one vowel and one consonnant big
- Comparative the consonant is doubled and 'er' is added —bigger
- Superlative the consonant is doubled and 'est' is added—biggest
 - 3. One syllable adjective ending in more than one consonant or more than a vowel —high, cheap
- Comparative 'er' is added higher, cheaper
- Superlative 'est is added highest, cheapest

- 4. A two syllable adjective ending in 'y' happy
- Comparative 'y' becomes 'i' and 'er' is added happier
- Superlative 'y' becomes 'i' and 'est' is added happiest
 - 5. Tow syllable or more adjectives without 'y' at the end exciting
- Comparative more + the adjective + than more exciting than
- Superlative more + the adjective + than the most exciting

Examples:

- The Nile River is longer and more famous than the Thames.
- Egypt is much hotter than Sweden.
- Everest is the highest mountain in the world.
- This is one of the most exciting films I have ever seen.

Here is a table of Irregular comparatives and superlatives

Adjectives	Comparatives	Superlatives
bad	worse	worst
far(distance)	farther	farthest
far(extent)	further	furthest
good	better	best
little	less	least
many	more	most
much	more	most

How to use comparatives and superlatives?

Alan is taller than John.	Alan is the most intelligent.

Similarities

To express similarities use the following structure:

... as + adjective + as ...

Examples:

- Raghav is as intelligent as Prabhas.
- Aamir is as popular as Sharukh.

Either / or - Neither / nor

Today we shall discuss about the Usage of Either / Or and Neither / Nor.

Usage of Either / or :

We can use either / or in a sentence in the affirmative sense when referring to a choice between two possibilities

Ex: We can either study now or after the dinner - it's up to you.

We can use Neither / Nor in a sentence in the negative sense when you want to say that two or more things are not true.

Ex: Neither my mother nor my father went to university.

Rules you should keep in mind while using Either / Or (or) Neither / Nor:

- If both elements are singular, then the verb should also be singular. Have a look at an example,
 - Either the father or the mother has to attend the meeting.
 - (Here father and mother are singular; so the verb has is also singular)
 - Neither Kareena nor Saif is going to the function. (Kareena and Saif are singular; so the verb is is also singular)
- However, if one of the elements is plural, then use a plural verb.
 - o Either Jasmine or the girls are going to prepare dinner tonight.
 - (the girls is plural; so the verb are is plural too)
 - o Neither the lecturer nor the students were in the classroom this morning.
 - (the students is plural; so the verb were is plural too)

A Little / A Few - Little / Few

Friends, today we shall discuss about the differences and usage of A little, a few and very little, very few. A little, a few, (very) little and (very) few are quantifiers.

A Little / A Few:

The expressions A Little / A Few mean some or enough.

Ex:

- "I have got a little money" = I have got some money. It's enough for me to do what I want.
- "I have got a few friends" = I have got some or enough friends. We meet every day.

(very) little and (very) few:

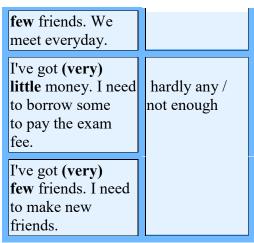

The expressions (very) little and (very) few mean hardly any or not enough.

Ex:

- I have got (very) little money = I have got hardly any. I haven't got enough. I'll borrow some from my friend.
- I have got (very) few friends = I have got hardly any. I haven't got enough. I need to make new friends.

Have a look at the following example table for a clear understanding of a little / a few and very little and very few.

Example	Meaning
I've got a little money. I'm going to pay the exam fee.	some/enough
I've got a

- Affirmative sentences:
 - o A little, a few, (very) little and (very) few are generally used in affirmative statements, not negatives or questions.
- Countable and uncountable nouns:
 - o A little and (very) little are used with uncountable nouns (money, bread, water...)
 - o A few and (very) few are used with countable nouns (friends, tables, teachers..)

Too and Enough

In Today's post we shall discuss about the usage of Too and enough.

- These two indicate degree.
- They are used with adjectives.

Too: The meaning of Too is "more than what is needed".

Enough: The meaning of Enough is "sufficient".

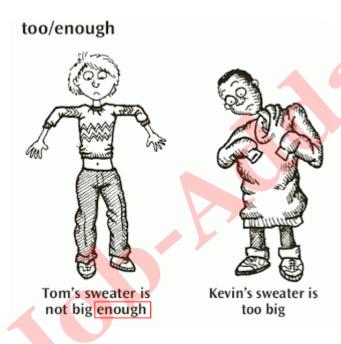

Have a look at some examples so that you can understand the usage of Too and Enough.

• He is too old to dance with those students.

- She is intelligent enough to get a good score in IBPS.
- You're not writing fast enough.
- I don't have enough money.
- He has too many girl friends.
- Uma has got too much patience

Now lets see some important points you should keep in mind while using Too

- Too comes before adjectives and adverbs :
 - o It's too hot to wear that coat.
 - I was walking too fast.
- Too may also come before nouns when it is used with the expressions too much and too many.

- Too much is used before uncountable nouns.
 - There is too much salt in this food.
 - Too many is used before countable nouns
 - There are too many students in this classroom.

Now lets see some important points you should keep in mind while using Enough.

- Enough precedes adjectives and adverbs :
 - o He isn't young enough to dance with those students.
 - We're not walking quickly enough.
- Enough may also precedes nouns :
 - o We have enough money.
 - o I have not got enough money to pay the exam fees.

Much, Many and A Lot

In today's post we shall discuss about the usage of Much, Many and A Lot. These three indicate a large quantity of something, for example "I have a lot of friends " means I have a large quantity of friends. These three are (much, many and a lot) are quantifiers. Now lets see some examples to demonstrate the usage of Much, Many and A Lot.

- How much money have you got?
 - o I haven't got much money.
 - o I have got a lot.
 - o I have got a lot of money.
- How many students are in the classroom?
 - o There aren't many.
 - o There are a lot.
 - o There are a lot of/lots of students.

In the interrogative forms we use:

• Much with uncountable nouns. (money, bread, water...)

- \circ Ex:
 - How much money / bread / water...is there?
- Many with countable nouns. (students, desks, windows...)
 - \circ Ex:
 - How many students / teachers / desks... are there?

In the negative forms we use:

- Much with uncountable nouns. (money, bread, water...)
 - \circ Ex:
 - I haven't got much money/bread/water...
- Many with countable nouns. (students, desks, windows...)
 - \circ Ex:
 - There aren't many students / teachers / desks...

In the affirmative forms we use:

- A lot, A lot of, lots of with countable and uncountable nouns.
 - \circ Ex:
 - "How many students are there in the classroom?"
 - "There are a lot."
 - "How many students are there in the classroom?"
 - "There are a lot of / lots of students"...

In formal written English:

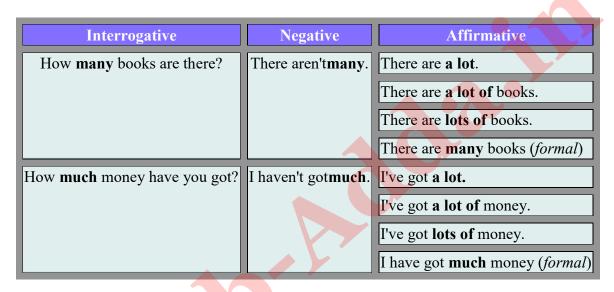

- It is also possible (and preferable) to use many and much rather than a lot of, lots of and a lot in formal written English.
 - \circ Ex:
 - There are many students.
 - Much time was spent on studying.

Remember friends, if you're speaking or writing to friends (informal), use a lot, a lot of, lots of. But if you want to be more formal, perhaps it is preferable to use much and many.

Some more points to Remember:

- In affirmative sentences with so, as or too, we also use much / many.
 - \circ Ex:
 - "Ramani has so many friends."
 - "She has as many friends as Mohana."
 - "Mohan has too much money."

Now lets see the detailed view of the points mentioned above :

I wish / if Only

In this post we shall discuss about the usage of I wish / If Only in sentences. There are three types of I wish / if only sentences:

- 1. Wish, wanting change for the present or future with the simple past.
- 2. Regret with the past perfect.
- 3. Complaints with would + verb.

To express a wish:

The form of the sentence:

If only / I wish + simple past

Ex:

If only I knew how to speak Spanish. (I don't know how to speak Spanish and I would like to learn how to speak)

Usage:

- To express a wish in the present or in the future.
- The simple past here is an unreal past.
- When you use the verb to be the form is "were". Example:

I wish I were a millionaire!

To express regret:

The form of the sentence:

If only / I wish + past perfect

$\mathbf{E}\mathbf{x}$:

If only I had woken up early. (I didn't wake up early and I missed the train.)

Usage:

- To express a regret.
- The action is past.

Complaining:

The form of the sentence:

I wish / if only + would + verb

$\mathbf{E}\mathbf{x}$:

I wish you wouldn't arrive so late all the time (I'm annoyed because you always come late and I want you to arrive on time)

Usage:

- To complain about a behavior that you disapprove.
- Expressing impatience, annoyance or dissatisfaction with a present action

Used to, be Used to, get Used to

Today we shall discuss about the usage of Used to, be Used to and Get Used to.

By using Used to you can express:

A particular thing always happened or was true in the past.

• But it no longer happens or is no longer true now:

Have a look at some examples of the usage of Used to:

- Shivani used to live in Bangalore.
- She used to dance every evening, but since she had that terrible lung disorder she doesn't dance anymore.
- Why don't you come and see me like you used to?

Now lets see the forms of used to:

There are three forms for Used to. They are

- Interrogative form :
 - o Did you use to dance regularly?
- Affirmative form :
 - o Yes, I used to go jogging nearly every day.
- Negative form:
 - o No, I didn't use to exercise on a regular basis.

The usage of Used to, be used to, get used to:

- Used to tells us that a particular thing always happened or was true in the past (see the above examples)
- Be used to is used to say that something is normal, not unusual.
 - Examples:
 - I'm used to living alone.
 - Don't worry, Mohan is used to driving for long hours. He has worked as a professional driver for 20 years.
- Get used tells us that something is in the process of becoming normal.
 - Examples:
 - He doesn't like that small town, but he'll get used to it.
 - She found the heels too high, but she got used to them.
 - Since the divorce, she has become very sad. But I think she'll get used to her new life.
 - I got used to living in Canada in spite of the cold weather.
- Get used to and be used to are followed by either a noun or a gerund. Have a look at the following table.

Lesson 6 : Tips for Correct Spellings

Rules / Tips for Correct Spellings – Lesson

The one word which most students dread in any competitive exam is "English", and more so "grammar!". Grammar is an integral and indispensable part of English (or any language, for that matter) and words / vocabulary are an integral part of grammar. And, when we talk of words, can spellings be far behind? Identifying the wrong spellings is a part of the evaluation process, in the English section, in most competitive exams - bank PO and clerical exams, SSC, IB and other exams.

The 'beauty' of English is that words are not spelled the same way they are pronounced and vice-versa. As Ambrose Bierce, American editorialist, journalist, short story writer, and one of America's greatest satirist, once said, "Orthography is the science of spelling by the eye instead of the ear." This implies that words that are written are not necessarily pronounced the same way! Under such circumstances, mastering spellings becomes critical to your success, not only in competitive examinations - where both your oral and written communications is tested - but also in your career and life.

Here are some Tips / Rules for Correct Spellings

There are certain rules / tips for correct spellings, and it will do you a 'world of good' if you can remember these rules / tips, and apply them accordingly while practicing the spellings of words.

1. 'ie' and 'ei': When 'ie' is pronounced 'i:' as in 'bee', the 'i' comes before the 'e'.

Believe

Belief

Brief

Achieve

Aggrieved

Fierce

Field

Grieve

Relief

Relieve

Chief

Hygiene

when 'ei' is pronounced 'i:' as in 'bee', 'ei' comes after the 'c'.

Deceive

Deceit

Conceive

Conceit

Misconceive

Perceive .

Preconceived .

Receive

However, some exceptions to this rule are:

Counterfeit, Plebeian, Weird, Seize, where the 'ei' spelling doesn't follow a 'c'. YOu need to learn the spellings for these.

2. The consonant 'I' is usually doubled, even when the stress does not fall on the last syllable. This rule is applicable for UK English spellings. However, the US spellings have also been shown below for your benefit and understanding.

Word Change in the word after Applying the rule (UK Spelling)

Travel Traveller Traveler Signal Signalling Signaling Distil Distiller Quarrel Quarrelled US Spelling US Spelling US Spelling Output Distiller Quarreled

Note: An Exception is 'paralleled'.

3. Doubling Consonants : When adding 'ed' and 'ing' endings to verbs that end with a single vowel plus a consonant, do not double the final consonant if the stress doesn't fall at the end of the word.

Word 'ing' form 'ed' form Budget Budgeting Budgeted Inherit Inheriting Inherited when adding 'ed' and 'ing' endings to verbs that end with a single vowel plus a consonant, double the final consonant if the stress falls at the end of the word.

Word 'ing' form 'ed' form
Commit Committing Committed
Admit Admitting Admitted
Refer Referring Referred
Defer Deferring Deferred

4. Adding endings to words that end with a double "I": Drop the final "I" from words that end with a double "I" before adding endings which begin with a consonant. (Such as 'ment', 'ful' and 'li')

Word 'ly', 'ful' & 'ment' endings

Dull Dully

Chill Chilly

Will Wilful (willful in US English)

Skill Skilful (Skillful in US English)

Note: The ending 'ness' is an exception to this rule:

- Small- Smallness;
- Ill illness
- 5. You must have come across the expression" "When two vowels go walking, the first one does not talking". This means that when there are two vowels in a row, the first one usually has a long sound, and the second is silent. "That's why it's 'lean', not 'laen'; 'team', not 'taem'; 'coat', not 'caot', 'boat' not 'baot'; and 'wait' not 'wiat'

Tips and Tricks to Improve English Spellings - Lesson 2

Friends, in our last post we have discussed some Rules / Tips for correct spellings. Read that post here before reading this post. Today we shall discuss some more tips and tricks for correct spellings.

6. You will be at your best at learning words when you make an effort to understand them. A good way to understand a word is to break it into syllables. Look for prefixes, suffixes, and roots. Practice each short part, and then the whole word.

disappearing ---> dis-ap-pear-ing

traditional ----> tra-di-tion-al

After you break apart a word, ask yourself: How is this world like other words I know?

Spelling the word "traditional" may make you think of the spellings, 'functional' and 'national'. Finding patterns among words is one of the best ways to learn spelling.

7. It's also helpful when you try making up funny memory aids. For instance, do you have trouble remembering which has two s's - desert (dry land) or dessert (a sweet course)? Remember that with 'desert' you'd like a second one;)

Similarly, do you have trouble remembering how to spell separate? Remember that there is a 'rat' in the middle.

- 8. Compile a list of words that you find difficult to spell. Go over a few previous papers and spelling exams to track down the trouble makers. Once you've got your list in hand, see if some of the above mentioned tips can help you.
- 9. Another kind of memory aid is to make up a sentence in which the first letter of each word can be used to make the spelling word. The sillier, the better goofy sentences may be easier to remember!

Chili - Cats have interesting little ideas

Physical - please have your strawberry ice cream and lollypops

Weird - We entered India running directly

Seize - She entered into zoo everyday

10. Make sure that you are pronouncing the words correctly. This can help you avoid some common spelling errors. Remember, that there are many words (and phrases) in English that are not spelled the way they are pronounced, and vice-versa. For example: imborglio, colonet, plumber, encore, melee, double entendre, Coup d'état, corps, coxcomb, ricochet, rapprochement, communiqué, laissez, faire, lagniappe, gaol etc.

How to master correct spellings?

One way of mastering correct spellings is to be aware of various kinds of words that are frequently used in written form, such as in news papers, magazines, journals, novels, biographies, autobiographies, websites / internet, etc. Practice correct spelling through reading, by paying attention to the way words are written, and jot down those you didn't know. Whenever you have any doubt about the spelling of any word, look up a dictionary immediately, and try to remember the spellings of such words.

Every day, at least for about half an hour, you should play vocabulary games such as anagrams, word games, cross word puzzles, scrabble, boggle etc.

That's all for now friends. Hope this article helped you improving your English spelling skills. Now lets have a look at some useful books for improving spellings.

Here are some reference books for improving Spellings

- 1. Webster's Reference Library Concise Edition Spelling, Grammar & Usage.
- 2. Basic English Usage Michael Swan (Oxford University Press).
- 3. High School English Grammar and Composition Wren & Martin.

Spellings often Misspelled

Friends, thanks for the overwhelming response to our Tips for correct spellings. Some of our friends have asked us to include some tips to remember the spellings that are often misspelled / confuse. Most spelling errors are unintentional. The main problem with the spellings is, people remember the sound of the word in their mother tongue and try to write the spelling to that sound using their own English language skills. But as English is a tricky language, this technique leads to some typing errors. Some common typos are:

- Omitting letters from a word
- Adding extra letters
- Transposing two letters in a word
- Spacing words improperly

We can avoid these errors with some careful observation and practice. Here is the list of some misspelled / confused words. Just observe the common errors carefully, and learn the correct spellings prudently. We hope this observation helps you improving your spellings. All the Best :)

Lesson 7: Reading Comprehension:

How to Get Good Marks in Reading Comprehension?

Friends, Now a days, almost every competitive exam asking reading comprehension questions. In these type of questions, they will give you a passage / comprehension and will ask you to read that and answer the questions followed by that passage. Actually this Reading Comprehension section is designed to test the ability of the student to read a passage and understand its contents and his ability to draw inferences on the basis of what is read. In simple words, the student's ability to grasp the contents of the passage in a relatively short span of time is what is being tested.

The Student is expected to read the given passage, understand its contents well and answer the questions given at the end of the passage. All this to be completed in the limited time that is given.

There are two important skills you should develop to do well in reading comprehension. Those are,

- 1. Reading Rate
- 2. Understanding of the Passage

Lets have a look at each of them individually to get a clear understanding, before we get into the techniques of attempting Reading Comprehension.

The reading skill cant be evaluated on a number of words per minute scale, but reading rate can definitely be measured. A person who can read faster can answer more number of questions in the given time than a person with slower reading speed, Other things remaining the same. It is this reading rate or your speed of reading that you have to aim at improving. There is no overnight solution to this. Constant and extensive reading will improve your reading rate. Check your reading speed today (take any passage, count the number of words, clock the time taken by you to read it and calculate the speed in words per minute) and keep a record of it. Then, keep checking your speed regularly and tabulate the same. Check whether your speed has increased over time with practice. However, do not become complacent if your speed has increased.

This brings us to the second point.. i.e., understanding of the passage. A person may be able to read the passage much faster than others but if he is not able to answer the questions pertaining to the passage, then the speed is of no use at all. it is very essential to grasp the meaning of the passage while reading. While you are reading, you should constantly think, evaluate, reason out, judge and co relate with what has already been read. A good vocabulary would enable you understand the nuances and grasp the meaning of various issues discussed in the passage. While an attempt can be made at pointing out various categories of quesiotns that may be asked and give a variety of tips, you will basically have to draw on the resources built by wide and extensive reading and rely on your own vocabulary. No training will possible regarding understanding and analysing the problem. However, we are going to take you through an extensive set of tests followed by this article to ensure that you get thorough practice in Comprehension Reading.

In addition to good vocabulary, also needed is the ability to zero in on the central theme of the passage. This can be developed with extensive reading practice as well as proper concentration at the time of reading the passage. You should also consciously develop the habit of correlating each new sentence read with the part of the passage already read and mentally form a linkage of all ideas expressed in the passage while simultaneously weeding out redundant statements.

The passage given in competitive exams (especially for bank exams) do not conform to any standards as regards the subject matter or the length of the passge. While the subjects covered can be as wide ranging as Economy, Sciences (like Botony, Zoology, Chemistry, Physics, Astornomy), Social Sciences (like Pshycology, History, Politics, Sociology), Humanities (like Literature, Art, Music) or Current Topics (Social, Political, Economical), the student is not expected to have any prior knowledge of the topics given.

The passages will sometimes be very complex in nature while others will be simple in nature and easy to understand.

The questions themselves can pertain either to parts directly contained in the passage or related to implications and inferences. Sometimes you may be asked to comment on the tone of the passage or to choose a title for the passage or to identify the main idea in the passage but you are hardly ever asked for your opinion on the passage.

Important Tips for Reading Comprehension

Friends, in our last post we've discussed some basic techniques on how to get good marks in Reading Comprehension section of bank and other competitive exams. (you can read that post here). In this post we shall discuss some important points you should keep in mind while dealing with Reading Comprehension problems.

What to read first? The given Passage or Questions?

There are people belonging to both schools of thought. But it is preferable to read the passage first to get a grasp of the broad ideas the author is trying to communicate and then take up the questions one by one. In the process of going through the passage initially, underline key words and phrases as well as some important points in the passage (for online exam you can't mark anything so better keep important words in your mind instead of writing anywhere). Then, when you go through each question, get back to the relevant portion of the passage, read it more thoroughly this time and then answer the question.

As mentioned in our previous post, the following are the major categories of questions that are asked:

- 1. Main idea of the passage / title for the passage
- 2. Specific details basically reproducing what is given in the passage
- 3. Drawing inferences / implications
- 4. Determining the meaning of words / phrases as used in the passage or by the author
- 5. Application of the ideas expressed in the passage to other situations

Where you have to choose a title for the passage or identify the main them of the passage, check the opening and closing sentences of each paragraph particularly the opening sentence of the first paragraph and the last sentence of the last paragraph. At the same time, be wary about too specific or too broad choices in the multiple choices given.

We are planning to give you a number of practice tests on Reading Comprehension as this is one of the crucial area of Competitive Exams. We hope these tests may enable you to get sufficient practice in this important area. Please remember that in this area, unlike in other areas like Maths or Reasoning where you will be able to assess for yourself how much of new knowledge you have added on and how much of improvement in speed you have achieved, there will not be such clear indicators. However, performance in reading comprehension will improve only with practice and that requires a lot of effort and determination on your part.

In addition to the online tests you take from this blog, you will have to put in at least 45 minutes of reading practice per day to improve your reading speed and comprehension. You need to take up serious reading material for practice - News Papers Editorials, editorials in general magazines like India Today or Business Magazines like Business India or other articles in such magazines, general books on a wide variety of subjects like Psychology, Sociology, Technology, etc. For each article or part of a book that you are reading, go through the process of reading, writing down from memory a few important points from what you have just read and then checking back with the text whether any important points got left out. This exercise done regularly over a period of time will certainly help you improve your reading speed as well as your ability to understand and retain what you read. But, as already mentioned, only regular practice can help you in this regard.
